GENNARINO LAMACCHIA

Gennarino joined the volunteer team in June of 2017 after his final year of high school and entering McMaster University. He has spent his time volunteering in the Emergency Room.

When we asked Gennarino what inspired him to start volunteering at BCHS he said he has an overwhelming passion for helping others and wanted to give back to the community that gives him opportunities. In addition, he wanted to immerse himself in the health care environment at an early stage as he looks forward to a career in health care.

Gennarino is an outgoing individual with a positive outlook on life. His parents have taught him to work hard and be goal oriented. Along with volunteering at BCHS Gennarino has been involved in numerous other volunteer efforts, such as Brantford Food Bank Christmas Baskets, Ferrero Children's Christmas Party, and Brantford Earth Day Community Tree Plant.

Ultimately Gennarino would like to be a physician one day and knows that his contribution of time to those who need it during difficult times of illness makes a difference in his community.

Thank you Gennarino for helping improve the lives of patients at BCHS!
